Originally forming part of the longer work Let's make an Opera, Benjamin Britten was said to have composed The Little Sweep 'with a beaming smile'.

This ingenious work, almost unrivalled for its charm, will bring both a tear and a smile. It tells the story of a young chimney sweep, Sam, his cruel master and dangerous trade, and his attempt to escape from Iken Hall.

Following the success of Dido & Aeneas in 2009, this performance by the University of Tasmania's Conservatorium of Music is sure to delight.
